Opicoil Americas and Juniper Bend Energy Sign $300 Million Texas Upstream Partnership

Agreement advances Opicoil's Texas investment strategy and supports a broader Texas-to-Taiwan energy commercialization pathway.

[HOUSTON, Texas - Month Day, Year] - Opicoil Americas, Inc. and Juniper Bend Energy today announced a signed $300 million funding partnership to advance Juniper Bend Energy's Texas upstream development program.

The agreement combines Opicoil's long-term investment capacity with Juniper Bend Energy's Texas development program. It aligns with Opicoil's focus on non-operated working interests and pre-drill proved undeveloped (PUD) opportunities, primarily in the Permian Basin, with East Texas also under consideration.

Opicoil has identified up to $1 billion for investment in Texas, reflecting its long-term interest in the state's upstream energy sector. The partnership represents a potential step in putting capital to work alongside Texas operators.

"This partnership reflects Opicoil's long-term interest in Texas and our commitment to invest alongside operators in opportunities that align with our strategic priorities. We are taking a disciplined approach to Texas upstream investment while considering how Texas energy can connect with international markets."

THE STRATEGIC CONTEXT

Texas investment. International perspective.

The partnership also advances Opicoil’s broader Texas-to-Taiwan commercialization strategy. Texas’ established pipeline and Gulf Coast export infrastructure offer a potential path for future production to reach international markets, including Taiwan. The agreement does not itself establish specific export volumes or offtake commitments.

“Opicoil’s partnership gives us a strong capital partner as we pursue our Texas development priorities. We value the opportunity to work together on a disciplined program that supports long-term growth and creates a platform for future collaboration.”
